Dear I-Team Leader,

Thank you so much for volunteering to share your time and talents to mentor your Heavenly father’s children this Get Connected. You will be greatly blessed with the opportunity to be an example and by so doing will also be blessed to be able to feel how the Lord feels about His children.

Your service alone will not only develop your character, but it will also change lives all around you as you strive to live in an exemplary manner as the Lord’s stewards. We thank you for who you are, who you strive to represent and your every effort you make to help others come closer to the Lord. We have so much faith in you and know you are doing the right thing.

The Gospel is True,

Get Connected Council- Fall 2014
Dear I-Team Leader,

Thank you for serving as an I-Team Leader within the Student Support program; your selfless sacrifice of both time and talents is recognized and appreciated.

Your willingness to serve is reflective of the special environment—the Spirit of Ricks—found at BYU-Idaho.

The Spirit of Ricks exists on this campus because all who work here provide personal, individualized attention to each student. It exists because bishops and other ecclesiastical leaders create spiritual havens for the members of their wards. It exists because caring students are genuinely interested in one another.

And, most of all, it exists because the influence of the Holy Ghost is evident on this campus. This is a precious legacy that we must nurture and strengthen as we move forward on our divinely appointed path.

As an I-Team Leader you will play a significant role in preserving and enhancing the special spirit of this institution.

We wish you well and pray for your success and happiness in this assignment as well as your other endeavors at BYU–Idaho.

Sincerely,

Kim and Sue Clark

WHAT IS AN I-TEAM LEADER?

A Representative of BYU–Idaho
You serve as an official representative of the University, as such, new students will look up to you. You will teach them not only through words but also through your actions and attitudes.

An Ambassador
You are an ambassador, a smiling face, an outstretched hand. You are the first to greet new students and their parents. Be enthusiastic, sincere, and anxious to help with anything that is needed.

A Guide
You are a guide to the lost. New students and parents will arrive to an unfamiliar campus and community. You can provide tremendous service simply by pointing people in the right direction.

An Advisor
Whether you’ve been here one semester or will be graduating soon, you can advise new students on things they don’t yet know.

A Friend
Starting college creates a lot of change for new students. Really come to know the students you get to work with. Give them the encouraging words and kindness they need. Show them that you really care.

A Disciple-Leader
As an I-Team Leader you live the gospel and represent the University as a disciple of Jesus Christ. The service you give is invaluable, and blesses others more than you know.
Purpose
To help new students benefit from the Get Connected activities, it is important to provide times for them to reflect on their experiences.

Debriefing sessions are as significant as the events that precede them because of the close relationship between learning and reflecting. Debriefing helps us apply principles learned in teaching settings, activities, and games.

The questioning process is the core of debriefing, with the answers of the group being the content of the session. Asking the right questions encourages participants to reflect, describe, analyze and communicate what they have experienced.

Your Role as a Facilitator
- Remember your role is to facilitate.
- Invite responses and feedback.
- Present a question beforehand.
- Encourage all to participate.
- Be responsible for moving the session along and providing closure.
- Guard against small talk.
- Provide pauses during the discussion for people to think.
- Bear your testimony!

Developing Questions
- Think of purpose and objectives.
- Ask open-ended questions (what, why, how).
- Ask one question at a time.
- Don’t be afraid of silence after asking a question; give them time to think about their answers, even if they don’t share at first.
- Vague questions lead to vague answers.

“Just as vital as what you do, however, is who you are.”
- Preach My Gospel (p. 115)
Setting the Stage
- Locate a suitable location for your group to debrief.
- Seat people so they can see and hear each other.
- Help people feel comfortable with each other.

Examples of Debriefing Questions
- What observations do you have?
- What did you learn about yourself from this experience?
- How did you feel when (insert a specific observation)?
- What new things did you learn?
- What thoughts or ideas came to your mind when...?
- Why is that important?
- How can that apply to our life?

At the close of Get Connected
- What affect has your participation in Get Connected had on you?
- What are you most excited for about your first semester? What are you most scared for? What do you know now that can help you?
- Share your testimony and bring closure to your I-Team group. Allow them the opportunity to share their feelings about their experience.

Instructions
- Try to hold debriefing sessions with every major event.

Specific Examples
During lunch at the Meet Your I-Team:
- Why did you choose to come to BYU–Idaho?
- What do you hope to accomplish during your time here?
“People are more easily led than driven.”
- David Harold Fink

I-Team/Get Connected

Is Get Connected mandatory?
Please be careful when addressing this question! First, stress the importance of attending Get Connected and the great benefit it will be in their lives. We want them to go for the right reasons.

The official wording we are asked to use is: “All new students are expected to participate in Get Connected.” Please avoid using any other language than this.

What is an I-Team?
An I-Team is a grouping of new students from a designated geographical boundary with two current student leaders who lead them through their BYU-Idaho Get Connected experience.

Where and when do I meet my I-Team?
Your I-Team leaders will stop by with a door flyer, letting you know your group meeting location. You can also meet your I-Team at the Meet Your I-Team session. Encourage new students to meet their I-Team as soon as possible.

What is the purpose of an I-Team?
To introduce new students with other new students, help make friends, get acquainted to BYU-Idaho, and build a support system with current student leaders to guide and answer questions throughout Get Connected.

What does a group number mean?
The group number helps you find the I-Team that you are in. Your group will have other new students from your apartment complex in it, as well as members of the opposite sex.

What are the some of the activities at Get Connected?
Some examples are the New Student Talent Show, Student Services Breakfast Tour, Academic Connections and I-Night.

At the Student Services Tour & Breakfast you get to know campus and key student services and eat free food.

At I-Night you will be able to have fun with your friends that you made at Get Connected, as well as meet current students. There will be various activities throughout the BYU-I Center & Manwaring Center.

Where do you go to pay for I-Night?
You can pay for I-Night at the door or purchase tickets at the ticket office. The cost is $5. Some food costs extra.

What can parents attend?
Parents are invited to attend all activities on Move-in Day. Parents stay at the BYU-Idaho Welcome, while the new students attend the Meet Your I-Team.

How do I audition for the New Student Talent Show?
New students can audition for the New Student Talent Show at the Manwaring Center Dance Studio (MC 201) on Friday, April 18 from 9:00 - 2:30 p.m. and 5:00 - 7:00 p.m., or on Saturday, April 19 from 7:30 - 9:30 a.m.

I-Cards
Where do I get an I-Card?
You can get your I-Card in the Kimball Building during Get Connected and after school starts.

When can we get our I-Card?
You can get your I-Card weekdays from 8:30-5:00. We encourage students to get their I-Card during assigned free time during Get Connected or after school starts.

Why do we need an I-Card?
You need your I-Card to buy your books, make copies/print, check out books at the library, take tests and any time you go to the Cashier’s Office in the Kimball. You don’t need your I-card the first week - you can use a picture ID and your I-Number.

What do you need to get your I-Card?
You will need to know your I-Number and have a government-issued photo ID. You must also be in compliance with the dress and grooming standards.

Where can I get my I-Number?
You can get your I-Number by logging onto my.byui.edu. Click on the “Profile” tab and it is located under “Personal Info.” It is a 9 digit number (xx-xxx-xxxx).

Honor Code
What is appropriate footwear?
Flip flops and other casual footwear are inappropriate on campus. Refer to the Honor Code, on page 17-18.

Do parents have to follow the Dress and Grooming Standards during Get Connected?
We encourage all parents, family, and guests to observe the dress and grooming standards while on campus.

On Campus
Where do you buy your books?
You can purchase your books in the University Store located on the first floor of the Manwaring Center.

Where is the ticket office?
The ticket office is located on the first floor of the Kimball Building, as part of the Cashiers’ Office.

Where and when is devotional?
Devotional is held every Tuesday at 2:10 p.m. in the BYU-Idaho Center.

Games Training

- Balloon Stomp: Will be played with all I-teams.

- Spider Web: The goal of the game is to get each group member through the holes in the spider web. The point is to have each person pass through a different hole. This will be a competition between the two I-teams to finish.

- Blindfold Switch: Individual is placed in the middle of a circle with a blindfold. That person calls out three numbers and those numbers switch places with each other. The middle person tries to tag the people switching places. Tagged person is in the middle.

- Car Lot: Group lines up on one end with one tagger. Everyone chooses if they are a Truck, Ferrari, or Porsche. The tagger stands in the middle and shouts out a car and those people run to the other side. If they are tagged they join the tagger and help tag people.

- Streets and Alleys: Divide players into even rows. Have them spread out with their arms out to the side, so they touch fingertips. This will form the streets and alleys. One person is the “caller”, one is the cat and one is the mouse. When the caller calls out Streets or Alleys everyone turns the same way. The cat chases the mouse through the streets and alleys. Once caught choose a new cat and mouse.

- Couch Game: Teams sit down alternating teams with one empty spot. Since the students are still getting to know each other, everyone will use their own name. The person to the right of the empty spot calls out a name and the person with that name moves to that spot. A team wins when they get a team member on each “couch” seat.
